Steve was born and raised in the Colorado Springs area. He graduated from Colorado State University majoring in Business Administration with a focus on real estate and finance. He is currently a partner of JHW Investment Company and Pikes Peak Aviation, which together form one of the largest general aviation tenants at the Colorado Springs airport. In addition to leasing aircraft hangars and property, he is actively involved in aircraft acquisitions, sales, and management through Pikes Peak Flyers, LLP. Steve is a commercial rated pilot and a frequent user of the COS airport.

In addition to aviation, Steve is involved in commercial real estate development and investment. Many of the projects are located in the Pikes Peak region and range in size from single tenant to multitenant retail centers.
