In early 2020, the Colorado Springs Police Department (CSPD) proactively partnered with Transparency Matters, LLC to conduct an independent and comprehensive assessment of the department's use of force. As part of a holistic approach to understanding use of force activities, the CSPD additionally contracted the Transparency Matters research team to develop and independently analyze a survey of community members.

There are multiple ways for community members to participate in the survey. Various physical copies have been distributed to community groups and locations throughout the city.

Community members can also:
