

Cultural Resources in the Project Area

The City of Colorado Springs' goal is to respect and avoid impacts to any cultural resources in the project area. Cultural resources are generally defined as:

- archaeological materials
- historic sites
- architectural features

- landscapes
- traditional cultural places

The City has contracted with a firm which specializes in cultural resource assessment to conduct background research and an on-site cultural resource survey. The firm will also prepare a report of findings and recommendations to the City.

The purpose of the investigation is to identify and record cultural resources that may be affected by project activities so that mitigation of impacts can occur.

It's expected that the assessment will be completed by the summer of 2014.
